SANDUSKY BAY PATHWAY

In 2004, the City of Sandusky began construction of a recreational trail along the city's waterfront called the Sandusky Bay Pathway. This pathway will provide waterfront access, fitness opportunities and ease of transportation for residents and visitors. It will provide ADA accessibility to the waterfront for viewing or fishing. Linear parks increase property values and contribute to healthy lifestyles.

In 2005, the City Commission approved the City's Strategic Plan that included the continued development of the Sandusky Bay Pathway. The City also completed a master plan for the Pathway that specified a phased completion of more than 13 miles of waterfront recreational paths. In 2006, Phase 2 of the pathway was completed from Shoreline Park to the Jackson Street Pier.

Additional phases are scheduled for completion over the course of the next several years.
